

SCA members engaging in martial activities.
Coos Bay – June 2006

The Middle Ages are coming to Curry County!

The Society for Creative Anachronism (<http://www.sca.org>) will be holding it's annual An Tir – West War event from Friday, June 29th until Monday July 2nd 2007 in Ophir. Approximately 1,000 – people will be traveling to Ophir from around the Pacific Northwest and Northern California for this 4 day campout. Members of the SCA study and recreate aspects of pre-17th Century Western European Culture and Civilization.

Local businesses can expect SCA members attending this event to spend money locally on such things as Ice, Groceries, Camping supplies, and Fuel. Some members stay in motels local to event sites, and many eat at local restaurants.

Expect heavier than normal traffic on US 101 in the area of Coy Creek and Euchre Creek roads all day on June 29th as people arrive and on the 2nd as people leave.

For further information please contact [REDACTED] at ([REDACTED]) or via email at [REDACTED]